

Nonprofits regularly enter and terminate contracts in the course of their program activities. Construction loans, leases, commitment letters, administrative service agreements, collaborations, intellectual property licenses, work for hire arrangements, letters of credit, grant agreements, and other contracts all expose your organization to risks and create opportunities. Skilled Lawyers Alliance staff and volunteer attorneys are ready to help nonprofits successfully review, negotiate, and understand these complex business transactions. Please let us help your organization. With quality legal help, you and your colleagues can better focus on carrying out your organization's mission.

Learn more from our website and our recent newsletter article about contracts and risk management.

Plus, keep in mind that our experienced staff attorneys have practical expertise in program areas of significance to New York nonprofits as noted below:

- Senior Staff Attorney Hedwig O'Hara (affordable housing and homeless services)
- Senior Staff Attorney Judith Moldover (community arts)
- Senior Staff Attorney Neil Stevenson (economic development)
- Legal Director Elizabeth Perez (multiservice organizations, children and youth services)
- Senior Policy Counsel Laura Abel (public policy and advocacy)
- Staff Attorney Mary Burner (urban health)

Next step: Contact Client Relations Coordinator Ellie Brandmeyer (at 212-219-1800 ext. 278, ebbrandmeyer@lawyersalliance.org) or, if applicable, your assigned staff attorney to discuss how Lawyers Alliance might help. We work with pro bono attorneys from more than 125 major law firms and corporations.

With much respect for all you do,

Executive Director Sean Delany
Deputy Executive Director Liz Guggenheimer
Legal Director Elizabeth Perez