Nick called meeting to order at 6:45pm

Cornell Technion made a presentation which covered barging issues. Cornell is currently investigating a number of ways to use barging to offset the number of trucks used in the project. No decision has been made regarding how much barging is feasible.

There was an extensive public session where RI residents stated their concerns regarding construction, trucking issues, public safety, transportation, environmental concerns, impacts on schools and parking, wildlife and tree issues and the change in the quality of life for the residents.

Meeting adjourned at 9:15pm.
