5. Elected Official’s Reports:

- Lolita Jackson, a representative from Mayor Michael Bloomberg’s office, reported on his latest initiatives. Lolita spoke about the City’s portion of the Second Avenue Subway (SAS) project. The City does a walk through with the Manhattan Transit Authority (MTA) and all City agencies including the 19th Precinct every 3-5 weeks through the entire SAS project area which includes E. 68th St- East 97th St. Since all City agencies are involved they can address the issues immediately and holistically. The City also conducts monthly meetings with all City agencies and the MTA. Lolita meets monthly with all 5 SAS contractors to address issues and make sure that rules are being enforced. The City is also making sure that sanitation guidelines are adhered to, rodent problems are being addressed, and summons are issued for infractions. The City is doing sign surveys to make sure all signage is appropriate.
- Christina Parisi, a representative from Congress Member Carolyn Maloney’s office, reported on her latest initiatives. Representative Maloney hailed the inclusion of $123,384,621 for the Second Avenue Subway and $215,000,000 for the East Side Access project connecting Long Island Railroad to Grand Central Terminal in the House Transportation, Housing & Urban Development (HUD) appropriation proposed for fiscal year 2013. Christina thanked all the East Side community residents and elected officials that rallied against the East River garbage station citing threats to public safety and the environment. The Congresswoman released letters that she and other East Side elected officials are sending to two federal agencies expressing their concerns over the City’s proposed siting of the garbage transfer station. The first letter to the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), cited the 91st Street site’s 3-mile proximity to LaGuardia Airport and the City’s violation of FAA guidelines prohibiting the siting of large garbage facilities within 5 miles of major airports. The second letter was sent to the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) and urged the NOAA to carefully weigh environmental factors before granting federal permits for the City’s application to construct a greatly expanded “footprint” in the environmentally sensitive East River. The Congresswoman along with fellow Representatives Jerrold Nadler and Peter King who are the House sponsors of the James Zadroga 9/11 Health & Compensation Act, commended the proposal by Dr. John Howard, Director of the National Institute for Occupational Safety & Health and the administrator of the World Trade Center Health Program, that the Program accept the entire set of recommendations issued previously by its Science/Technical Advisory Committee (STAC) to provide coverage for certain types of cancer resulting from exposure to toxins released at Ground Zero.
- Patrick Madigan, a representative from State Senator Liz Krueger’s office, reported on her latest initiatives. He wanted to address the Rose Group issue regarding the liquor license issue. Much to the dismay of Senator Krueger the bill that changes the 200 foot rule between a religious institution and an establishment serving liquor did pass in the Senate. She is hoping that this bill will not pass in the Assembly.

On June 27th the Mass Transit Authority (MTA) will be hosting their 3rd Second Avenue Subway Community Workshop. It is open to all community residents and if you would like to attend or get more information you can e-mail Claudia Wilson, who is the Community Liaison for the Second Avenue Subway construction project at Claudia.Wilson@2avesubway.com On the issue of delivery bikes Senator Krueger is still pushing for the bill she has sponsored S419C which establishes vicarious liability between the delivery cyclist and the business owner.

- Damaris Olivo, a representative from Senator Jose Serrano's office, reported on his latest initiatives. Senator Serrano thanked Assembly Members Kellner and Quart and Council Members Lappin and Garodnick for co-sponsoring the Free Mammogram Van Program. Women over the age of 40 received free mammogram screenings at both the Stanley Isaacs Neighborhood Center and Roosevelt Island sites. Damaris announced that Senator Serrano's Office is offering tips to beat the heat this summer and there were hand-outs with a listing of resources for the community which include information regarding the Senior Pool Day at Thomas Jefferson Pool located at East 112th Street and First Avenue. Senator Serrano is promoting literacy through the Summer Reading Program. Students and their parents can log on to www.nyread.com and create a profile, record reading progress, share books on Facebook and earn a certificate from the Senator.
- Helen Ohw, a representative from Assembly Member Kellner's office, reported on his latest initiatives. Helen Ohw introduced herself as the new Community Relations Director for Assembly Member Kellner's office. The Assembly Member's office is handing out eco-friendly "Green Bags" as a way of reusing and recycling. Feel free to stop by the office at 1365 1st Avenue (between 73rd & 74th St) and ask for one. The Assembly Member is collecting signatures from concerned parents all over the Upper East Side calling on the Chancellor to open a greatly needed new academically rigorous public middle school that will open its doors in September 2012. Governor Cuomo's administration recently proposed limiting hydrofracking to communities throughout New York which support the technology and request drilling to be done in their respective areas. Assembly Member Kellner does not support the Governor's plan and has sponsored a bill which calls for a health study on the effects of hydrofracking. This bill passed the Assembly this week.
- Matthew Walsh, a representative from Assembly Member Dan Quart's office, reported on his latest initiatives. On a community note, the Assembly Member was pleased that Dunkin' Donuts has removed the excessive signage at its 84th Street store location. On a legislative note, the Assembly Member is aware of the urgency of the 200 foot rule bill that is being presented to the Assembly and he is doing everything in his power to lobby his colleagues against this bill.
- Genevieve Michel, a representative from Council Member Daniel Garodnick's office reported on his latest initiatives. Council Member Garodnick has written a letter and is working closely with Chairman John B. Rhea of the New York City Housing Authority (NYCHA) to ensure that NYCHA residents install guards below their air conditioners as required by NYCHA regulations. This was done as a result of an incident that occurred on May 29th when an air conditioner fell from 1780 First Avenue to the Holmes Towers Eisman Nursery playground. Fortunately, no one was hurt in the incident but parents are reasonably worried about allowing their children to utilize the playground. The Council Member joined by colleagues, child advocates, and parents is fighting to preserve 7 Beacon programs that have been cut by the Mayor's budget. The Beacon Programs serve 5,600 students and adults and the Council Member is calling on the Mayor to restore the funds for these crucial programs. The Council Member is very pleased to announce that the Department of Education extended the deal with the United Federation of Teachers (UFT) to allow teachers aids to work in the class rooms. CB8M's Youth & Education Committee has been very supportive of this issue.
- Cullen Barrie, a representative from Council Member Jessica Lappin's office, reported on her latest initiatives. Council Member Lappin introduced legislation that requires the MTA to provide air quality data from the Second Avenue Subway construction sites to be posted on-line. You can view the air quality monitoring reports by visiting www.mta.info/sasair Due to the Department of Education (DOE) mismanaging Upper East Side rezoning the schools are faced with overcrowding for years. In response to this issue, the Council Member has written a letter along with other East Side officials urging the DOE to find a better solution.

Community Board 8, Manhattan, write a letter to Council Members Daniel Garodnick and Jessica Lappin in support of its plan to index open space on Manhattan's Upper East Side using the group's Open Space Index.

LETTER:

Dear Council Members Garodnick and Lappin,

Community Board 8, Manhattan, wishes to express its support of a plan by New Yorkers for Parks to conduct an open space assessment of Manhattan's Upper East Side using the group's Open Space Index.

We know that parks are essential to the health of New Yorkers, the livability of its neighborhoods and the economic development of the City. Yet, Manhattan Community Board 8 is extremely lacking in parks and open space. In order to address that problem, we need the detailed data about open space quality, maintenance, access, variety and environmental sustainability that NY4P's Open Space Index will provide.

With this tool, we will all be able to champion for the green spaces our community needs. Therefore, we urge you to back the plan by New Yorkers for Parks to carry out its open space indexing of the Upper East Side of

Manhattan. Sincerely,

Manhattan Community Board 8 approved the resolution by a vote of 32 in favor, 3 opposed and 6 abstentions.
