Make Music New York Join your neighbors on June 21st to celebrate the second season of events on our long-sought, official Public Plaza on James Cagney Place, the section of East 91st Street between Second and Third Avenues. Last year's Department of Transportation designation of this pedestrian plaza is an important step in keeping this enclave forever closed to cars. The James Cagney Place public plaza will take part in "Make Music New York" on Thursday evening, June 21st, with local bands performing from 5:30-8:30, with a pre-show at 4:30pm by a local teen band "The Mischief 4" playing classical rock. June 21st is the summer solstice, the longest day of the year, and a day when NYC musicians perform at more than 400 outdoor, public places in a celebration of music like no other. Over its eleven year history, Make Music New York has grown to become NYC's largest one-day collection of free concerts, all thanks to all musicians and venues who volunteer to participate

Kravis Center for Cardiovascular Health at Mount Sinai Heart offers classes and educational presentations open to the public.
