A proposal for ten Alma Allen sculptures to be exhibited
April – October 2025 from 52nd to 70th Streets.

This exhibition proposal includes ten new freestanding sculptures in bronze and marble by American artist Alma Allen (b. 1970) that embody the artist's purposeful surrender to the creative instinct, a universal space where intuition and logic dissolve into one another. "I am interested in the spiritual work of sculptors, of communicating without language," says Allen, "the effort to communicate, sometimes across time or understanding, with something that is incapable of returning speech."

Challenging notions of prescribed meaning in favor of interconnectivity, the titling of Allen's works (each Not Yet Titled) reflects the artist's interest in psychological states of flow. While involving the large-scale embodiment of weight, gravity, and permanence, each of Allen's formal investigations possess a sense of becoming where the momentary spark of creation remains palpable.

Allen's work is included in the permanent collections of the Los Angeles County Museum of Art and the Palm Springs Art Museum in California, and his first monograph was published by Rizzoli Electa in 2020. The artist participated in the 2014 Whitney Biennial where he gained recognition and a wider discovery of his work. In 2018, the Palm Springs Art Museum in California opened the two-person exhibition In Conversation: Alma Allen & JB Blunk, which traveled to the Nevada Museum of Art in 2019.

In 2021, Kasmin staged an exhibition of Allen's sculpture, encompassing both an indoor exhibition space and the Kasmin Sculpture Garden on the gallery's rooftop in New York. In 2022, Allen's work was installed in the iconic central plaza at Rockefeller Center, New York.
